OFFERS:

- Carriage drives to discover l'Isola di Ariano: the territory of the Isola di Ariano, until the X century named Adriano, was a marshy lagoon and in Roman times was crossed by the via Popilia. Traces of this road can still be found in San Basilio, Ariano Polesine, thanks to archeological excavations. In the middle Ages this road became the Romea, the official way for the pilgrims travelling to Rome from Veneto and the centre of Europe, finding welcome and shelter at l'Abbazia di Pomposa. Il Po della Donzella, once the main branch of this great river, was for centuries the natural border between Veneto and Romagna, in particular between the Serenissima Repubblica Veneta and the Stato del Vaticano. L'Isola di Ariano goes from the Po di Venezia in the north to the Po di Goro in the south; the point where the branches divide is Santa Maria in Punta, a particularly suggestive and beautiful landscape.

- horse trekking (minimum 8 people):
  - possibility of working in our manege with the instructor Mario Bettella
  - lovely rides along the river banks which have great going for the horses
  - possibility of stopping in agriturismi which can host both riders and horses
